

CLASS REVIEW

I had been working as a Script Supervisor for 8 years and, as I was trained primarily by directors and through books, I always felt my knowledge was lacking.

I have learnt a lot from this course. Three things that stand out are 1) script timing and how it can be affected by mood; 2) well formatted forms help make information clear and easily accessible; 3) write camera angles in a consistent, readable style using precise technical language.

The amount of homework can seem daunting but each step adds to the my knowledge base and develops my understanding of script supervising.

As a working script supervisor, having the course online has been very beneficial as I am able to take it at my own pace. I do lessons between jobs and take what I have learnt with me onto each new project.

Dawn is a dedicated and patient teacher. She always ensures I have understood each concept before moving on to the next lesson. Her reviews of the homework are detailed and thorough. No stone is left unturned.

Since starting this course I have been developing more confidence in my skills and knowledge. I have learnt the requirements of my job as well as what it outside my control. I have noticed other industry professionals being impressed by my increasing technical knowledge and workflow.

I am excited to take what I've learnt in the current lesson and use it on my next job.
